Course description

This is a course on the theory of the linear model, the most commonly used statistical model. The course will present topics on the definition, estimation and hypothesis testing in this class of models. In addition, we will discuss statistical methods for multiple comparisons and issues related to a breakdown in the model assumptions. More advanced topics in this course include the discussion of blocking, random and mixed effects, and an introduction to generalized linear models.

Course learning outcomes

By the end of this course, students should successfully be able to:

- Understand and discuss the definition and the assumptions of a multivariate linear model
- Carry out appropriate statistical inference (parameter estimation and hypothesis testing) for the parameters involved in a linear model.
- Understand, describe and perform statistical inference for the general linear model.

Assignment information

Homework: There will be weekly homework assignments posted on the course website. Homework is due once per week, with dates and times provided as needed. Homework assignments will be submitted for grading via Carmen.

Quizzes: There will be weekly quizzes. These will be administered online, through Carmen. There will be a sufficiently large time window to complete the quiz, but once you begin taking the quiz, there will be a time limit for you to complete it. If necessary, Proctorio will be used during the quizzes.

Exams: There will be two midterm exams and one final exam. All exams will be delivered in person, during class time. Information about the exams will be posted well in advance through the course website. If mandated, exams will be delivered online, through Carmen. For online exams, Proctorio will be used as a security tool.

Midterm I -- 10/01/21 (tentative date).

Midterm II -- 11/5/21 (tentative date).

Late assignments

Generally, late assignments are not accepted, and written documentation is required for missed assignments. If you are unable to complete an assignment on time, please get in touch with me as soon as possible so we can discuss your situation.

Attendance, participation, and discussions

Student participation requirements

The following is a summary of everyone's expected participation:

- Since the class is offered in-person, students are required to attend class in person. However, attendance will not play a factor in your final grade.
- Logging in to Carmen: AT LEAST ONCE PER WEEK
Be sure you are logging in to the course in Carmen each week, including weeks with holidays or weeks with minimal course activity. (During most weeks you will probably log in many times.) If you have a situation that might cause you to miss an entire week of class, discuss it with me as soon as possible.
- Office hours: OPTIONAL OR FLEXIBLE
My office hours, are optional. If you wish to discuss an assignment with me, please contact me at the beginning of the week if you need a time outside my scheduled office hours.
- Participating in discussion forums: OPTIONAL, SEVERAL TIMES PER WEEK
You are encouraged to participate in discussion forums, if you choose to do so.

Discussion and communication guidelines

The following are my expectations for how we should communicate as a class. Above all, please remember to be respectful and thoughtful.

- Writing style: While there is no need to participate in class discussions as if you were writing a research paper, you should remember to write using good grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Informality (including an occasional emoticon) is fine for non-academic topics.
- Tone and civility: Let's maintain a supportive learning community where everyone feels safe and where people can disagree amicably. Remember that sarcasm doesn't always come across online.
- Citing your sources: When we have academic discussions, please cite your sources to back up what you say. (For the textbook or other course materials, list at least the title and page numbers. For online sources, include a link.)
- Backing up your work: Consider composing your academic posts in a word processor, where you can save your work, and then copying into the Carmen discussion.

Academic integrity policy

Policies for this online course

- Quizzes and exams: You must complete the midterm and final exams yourself, without any external help or communication.
- Written assignments: Your written assignments, including discussion posts, should be your own original work. You are encouraged to ask a trusted person to proofread your assignments before you turn them in--but no one else should revise or rewrite your work.
- Reusing past work: In general, you are prohibited, in university courses, from turning in work from a past class to your current class, even if you modify it. If you want to build on past research or revisit a topic you've explored in previous courses, please discuss the situation with me.
- Falsifying research or results: All research you will conduct in this course is intended to be a learning experience; you should never feel tempted to make your results or your library research look more successful than it was.
- Collaboration and informal peer-review: The course includes opportunities for collaboration with your classmates. While study groups and peer-review of major written projects is encouraged, remember that comparing answers on a quiz or assignment is not permitted. If you're unsure about a particular situation, please feel free just to ask ahead of time.

Ohio State's academic integrity policy

It is the responsibility of the Committee on Academic Misconduct to investigate or establish procedures for the investigation of all reported cases of student academic misconduct. The term "academic misconduct" includes all forms of student academic misconduct wherever committed; illustrated by, but not limited to, cases of plagiarism and dishonest practices in connection with examinations. Instructors shall report all instances of alleged academic misconduct to the committee (Faculty Rule 3335-5-487). Your mental health

As a student you may experience a range of issues that can cause barriers to learning, such as strained relationships, increased anxiety, alcohol/drug problems, feeling down, difficulty concentrating and/or lack of motivation. These mental health concerns or stressful events may lead to diminished academic performance or reduce a student's ability to participate in daily activities. The Ohio State University offers services to assist you with addressing these and other concerns you may be experiencing. If you or someone you know are suffering from any of the aforementioned conditions, you can learn more about the broad range of confidential mental health services available on campus via the Office of Student Life's Counseling and Consultation Service (CCS) by visiting ccs.osu.edu or calling 614- 292-5766.
